MAY MEMBER SPOTLIGHT

Introducing: Dr. Colleen Saringer (Ph.D.)

Dr. Colleen, how were you first introduced to NSA Georgia?

- In November 2023, I attended a Professional Speaking Masterclass in NJ. While sitting on the car rental bus, I struck up a conversation with a gentleman who happened to be in town for a paid speaking and training engagement. After sharing with him that I had the goal to be a paid, professional speaker, he immediately said “Get involved with your local National Speakers Association; Georgia has a great chapter.” I came home, looked into membership, and joined.

What is your background? How did you get into speaking?

- I’m a blue-collar woman wrapped in a Ph.D. package. I’m a published, peer-reviewed author on workplace culture and health behavior policy. I am typically mistaken for Human Resources (HR); however, I am not. I am an Organizational Health Professional.
- Despite working with organizations of all industry types and sizes over the last 20 years, I have been determined to improve the workplace environment and decrease turnover for the business owner and the employees within the construction industry.
- I’ve been speaking in front of large groups for the entirety of my career — I enjoy it because it brings out the educator in me. I took acting classes as a child and loved being on stage - especially if I could make someone laugh.

Can you tell us more about the value NSA Georgia has brought you?

- I was laser-focused on joining the NSA Georgia Speaker Academy cohort that opened up in March, which I am currently enrolled in. I’m really excited about the journey and what’s to come. I’ve walked away with more “nuggets” of information than I have fingers to count on in such a short amount of time!

Can you share a quote that represents your experience so far?

- I aim to associate with those who embody kindness. In my short time as a member, those who I’ve met, including the Board, have been just that: kind.

THANK YOU MARK LEBLANC, CSP, CPAE

We want to thank Mark LeBlanc, CSP, CPAE again for an amazing MainSTAGE and Workshop. You truly made an impact on our NSA Georgia members and guests!
